History of Hotel Chiplakoff

The building is an architectural monument. It was built in 1925 on request of a well-known tradesman Bozveliev, by the Italian architect Ricardo Toscani, the representative of the "Ar Nuvo" art school. His works are also the Art Gallery /Jewish Synagogue/ dated from 1905 and the Bourgas Railway Station from 1917. The building was reconstructed and renovated in the years of 2004-2006 by the restorer Atanas Chiplakoff. The old-fashioned style and spirit of the building turns time back to the aristocratic luxury of the 19 century. Each room is luxuriously designed. The hotel is situated in the very heart of Bourgas, nearby most of the government, municipal and financial buildings.
