In the furnished kitchen downstairs, round the big oak table or near the fire in the place, you can prepare your own favorites meals. The inside wooden stairs lead you upstairs where there are two double bedrooms and a children’s bedroom.

In the immediate neighborhood of the house there is a sheltered parking lot for two cars.

A cozy kitchen which reminds you of the homely coziness. An oak table for you and your guests. The warmth of the fire is conducive to a pleasant and merry spending with a light music in the background or favorite films.

The three bedrooms furnished in a folk-style are to everyone's taste – the first is equipped with a double bed, the second is with two single beds and the children's bedroom is with one bed. In the interior the wood is dominated and that gives calmness and warmth.

The stone and the wood are the main chosen materials for building the outer decoration because they have proved their ecological and constructive function through the centuries.
