Additional information: Balchik is a small seaside town in Northern Bulgaria which combines the romance of its steep streets with the beauty of the sea. For a lon time it has been known as the White Town for the mainly white colour of its lime rocks. The nearest big towns are Varna /40 km/ and Dobrich /35 km/. Albena, one of the biggest Bulgarian resorts is only 10 km away. There is regular bus transport to them. On the north /35 km/ the furthest eastern point of Bulgaria - cape Kaliakra juts out deep into the sea. Similarly to Kavarna,the town of Balchik is also a relatively large settlement with its population numbering 13,766 people and a harbour
